ANNOUNCEMENT!

SSO Second Seminar Networking Lunch

January 16, 2009, 11:30-1:30
University of Ottawa Heart Institute
Foustanelas Auditorium (2nd level, follow signs)
40 Ruskin St. (part of Ottawa Hospital Civic Campus)

The SSO has organized its second networking seminar luncheon on Friday, January 16, 2009 from 11:30 until 1:30 at the University of Ottawa Heart Institute, Foustanelas Auditorium (2nd level, follow signs), 40 Ruskin St. (part of The Ottawa Hospital Civic Campus). There is lots of hospital parking nearby and bus access is also easy (if available).

Our speaker will be Dr. Stephen Walter, Professor, Department of Clinical Epidemiology & Biostatistics, McMaster University and the first recipient of the Statistical Society of Canada Award for Impact of Applied and Collaborative Work in May 2008. The title is, "Do you want your doctor to be an expert?"

This seminar networking lunch has been organized to respond to the top two picks of "How the SSO can help you" discussion at our 2007 Fall Seminar luncheon – seminars and networking lunches. More details will be provided soon on the SSO website http://www.ssc.ca/ottawa/main_e.html.

If you would like to attend, please RSVP to sso.ottawa.canada@gmail.com by Jan. 14. There is no cost.

PLEASE CIRCULATE TO INTERESTED PARTIES
